Nassau County Executive Laura Curran Honors Women Economic Developers of Long Island Madelyn Orsini Award Winners

Woodbury, NY – Nassau County Executive Laura Curran recently spoke at the Women Economic Developers of Long Island (WEDLI) Judith McEvoy Government Breakfast. WEDLI is a diverse organization founded 30 years ago with the intent of bringing women in decision making positions together to advance Long Island’s economic strength and to further women’s position in the work force.

Following brief remarks to a packed house at The Woodlands in Woodbury, County Executive Curran presented the Madelyn Orsini Award to Maria Villon Bustillo and Gabrielle Bacarella. The Madelyn Orsini Award is presented annually to a female student who demonstrates the values of the WEDLI organization by her commitment to leadership and community service on Long Island.
